

BAGH CHAL

— Goats & Tigers

The Rules:

1. The tigers are placed in the four corners of the board.
2. The goats have to be placed where the lines on the board cross one at a time alternating with a move by the tiger. You can place the goat wherever you wish, but no goat can change its position till all 20 goats have been placed on the board.
3. The tigers can move from point to point following any straight line, or jump over a goat to an unoccupied crossing. When the tiger jumps over a goat, the goat is considered captured and must be removed from the board.
4. The goats defend themselves by not giving the tigers any point to land when trying to jump over them.
5. The goats win if they encircle all tigers so that no movement by any tiger is possible.
Tigers win by capturing 5 goats.
